SEA ENGAGEMENT

Between Kamimura and the Vladivostock Fleet

THE RESULT IS YET UNKNOWN

Kuropatkin, Fearing a Cordon, Moves Northward

VLADIVOSTOCK FLEET ACTIVE.

Nagasaki, July 2.—The Vladivostock squadron of Russian warships was reported off Oku island last night and the sound of firing was heard at Goto island.

WHAT COMPRISES THE SQUADRON.

London, July 2.—According to a dispatch from Tokio to the Central News only three cruisers of the Vladivostock squadron appeared in Tsu island channel and the torpedo boats belonging to the squadron have apparently returned to Vladivostock.

Heavy cannonading was heard ashore at 8.30 yesterday evening, the dispatch says, but the nature and result of the fight are not known. The Russian ships, however, seem to have suffered no damage, as they were afterwards seen making in a northeasterly direction.

FURIOUS SEA ENGAGEMENT.

Tokio, July 2.—The Vladivostock squadron appeared in Tsu Shima Channel, south of Fusan, yesterday and a furious battle was fought with the Japanese warships under command of Vice Admiral Kamimura. The cannonading was very heavy. The Russians, it is believed from the latest reports were trapped by the Japanese in the channel, which is the entrance to the Sea of Japan, and attacked before they could get away. Shortly after the firing was heard some Russian warships were seen steaming in a northeasterly direction with Kamimura in pursuit. This would indicate that they had been defeated by the Japanese, but the final results are not yet known.

RUSSIANS FALL BACK.

General Kuroki's headquarters in the field, via Fusan, June 28.—(Delayed in Transmission)—The Russian troops have retreated all along the line before the northern advance of the Japanese army and the country to the northwest is almost clear of them. A cavalry division which has been active in front of the Japanese right, has retired along the roads and across the country. It appears as though General Kuropatkin feared he would be surrounded. Should he determine to make a stand at Liao Yang, a decisive battle before the rains is probable.

EDMONTON RIFLE ASSOCIATION

The final match of the Military Rifle League competition was shot off on Saturday morning on the range here.

The following were the scores:—

W. E. Heist	200	500	600	Ttl.
J. Carmichael	30	24	24	78
J. McKenzie	30	28	32	90
W. Peters	25	29	29	83
A. Cameron	34	33	29	96
W. L. Gibbard	29	32	28	89
H. W. Moller	30	25	16	71
G. W. A. Reid	32	29	24	85
H. B. Spratt	31	30	26	87
S. S. Brown	29	23	18	70
Grand Total	29	32	24	85

The sun was strong, but as the targets face the north this was a disadvantage at that time of the day, as the sun was in the eyes of the riflemen, and the heat being intense there was considerable mirage, which bothered even some of the best marksmen, especially at the 600 yard range.

Below is given an epitome of the range and grand totals of each match and a summing up of the whole series:—

Match Date	200	300	600	Ttl.
1st, June 4th	250	275	270	795
2nd, June 11th	248	270	245	763
3rd, June 25th	288	289	242	819
4th, July 2nd	299	282	241	822
Grand Total	1085	1116	1008	3209

The standing of the team in this competition will be made known as soon as returns are sent from Ottawa, which may not be for three or four weeks.

The following team went to Calgary this morning to compete in the Territorial matches this week: W. Peters, A. Cameron, J. Carmichael, S. S. Brown, G. A. Reid, and possibly another.

The regular Saturday afternoon practice of the association will be resumed at once.

THE OPERA

The Beggar Prince Opera Company closed their week's engagement in Edmonton Saturday evening by presenting the comic opera Grofie-Grofia. The attendance was very large and the opera was fully up to those of the preceding evenings.

The cast of characters was:

Don Bolero, a Grapdee of Spain	Stanley Felch
Prince Mourzouk, betrothed of Grofia	G. Byron Bront
Marasquin, betrothed of Grofia	Frank Walters
Pedro, a cook	F. A. Wade
Pirate Chief	W. L. Burgess
Grofia	Irene Palmer
Grofia, their maid	Gertrude Hutchison
Aurora, wife of Don Bolero	Addie Mumford
Prates, Moors and Cousins

Stanley Felch, as Don Bolero, a grandee of Spain, took one of the leading parts and took it to perfection, keeping the audience in roars of laughter. Mr. Felch is perhaps the cleverest comedian that has yet made his appearance in Edmonton. G. Byron Bront as Prince Mourzouk and Frank Walters as Marasquin amply sustained the high reputation earned on previous evenings. F. A. Wade took the minor part of Pedro, the cook, very acceptably. Addie Mumford as Aurora, wife of Don Bolero, took her part splendidly as did also Gertrude Hutchison as Paquita. Mrs. Palmer, the leading lady, acted the dual part of Grofia and Grofia in an exquisite manner and justly deserves the high praise lavished on her since the company's appearance in Edmonton.

Throughout the week the opera afforded delightful treats to the people of Edmonton who patronized it extensively.

War Notes

Admiral Togo's detailed report of his effective attempt on Port Arthur last Thursday night has been published. The report confirms the reported destruction of a battleship of the Peresviet type, the disabling of a battleship of the Sevastopol class, and a protected cruiser resembling the Diana, and the injuring of a torpedo destroyer, but throws no light on the Russian plan. The entire Russian fleet steamed out in line of battle suddenly. When within fourteen thousand meters from the Japanese fleet, the Russian fleet refused to give battle and steamed back to an anchorage outside the harbor, where, during the night the Japanese destroyers and torpedo boats made eight desperate attacks upon them. The Russian vessels re-entered the harbor on Friday, since which time they have failed to reappear. In his report Admiral Togo says: "The exit of the Russian fleet from Port Arthur harbor began early Thursday. The battleships Peresviet, Poltava and Sevastopol, the armored cruiser Bayan, the protected cruisers Pallada, Diana, Askold and Novik came first, a steamer leading them, clearing the mines."

A warning flashed by wireless telegraphy by the Japanese patrol brought up Admiral Togo's fleet at full speed to a series of pre-arranged stations. Three flotillas of Japanese destroyers and torpedo boats steamed close to the harbor entrance and watched the Russian vessels. About 11 o'clock the Russian battleships Czarevitch, Retvizan and Pobieda joined the other Russian ships outside the harbor. Several steamers and boats were engaged in clearing and exploding mines in order to make a passage seaward. Captain Asai, commanding the Japanese torpedo flotilla, attacked the vessels engaged in clearing out the mines and hampered the work. At three o'clock seven Russian destroyers appeared and the Japanese vigorously attacked them. One of the Russian destroyers, which was hit and set on fire, retreated to the harbor burning. The Novik attacked the Japanese, who scurried away. The vessels engaged in clearing the harbor finally made a passage and the Novik led the Russian fleet seaward. In the meantime Admiral Togo, concealed the positions of his ships and at four o'clock sent the third squadron out into the vision of the Russians with the object of drawing them seaward.

The Russian fleet stood southeastward and then southwest. During this time Admiral Togo concealed his first squadron south of Guga rock. As the Russians approached, Admiral Togo assembled his fleet and prepared to attack. At 6.15 p.m. the Russians were in plain sight, eight miles northwest of Guga rock. The Czarevitch led and the nine others followed in a single line. The Novik and seven destroyers were placed at the right of the line. Admiral Togo waited with battle flags flying from all the tops, the Japanese fleet formation representing the first letter of the Japanese alphabet inverted. At 7.30 p.m. the Russians headed for the Japanese, and Admiral Togo veered slightly to the right in order to bring pressure against the head of the Russian formation. At 8 p.m. the Russians changed their course and headed northward. Admiral Togo followed in a long single line, ordering the destroyers and torpedo boats to prepare for an attack after sundown. At 8.22 p.m. the small flotillas swung around the rear of the Russian fleet and headed towards the Russians at full speed. At 9.30 the fourteenth flotilla diverted the first of the Russian fleet now in the rear of a point 5 miles outside the entrance to Port Arthur. Immediately afterwards the fifth flotilla delivered a second attack. The Russian fleet was confused, and it was impossible for it to retreat quickly into the harbor on account of the narrowness of the channel and possibly the low tide. At 10.30 p.m. the Russian fleet anchored in a single line extending from the foot of Wantung fort to the base of Chentaorhan.

During the night the torpedo flotillas kept up constant attacks on the Russian fleet going in eight times. The most effective attack was of the sixteenth flotilla, which at 11.30 p.m. caught the Russians rounding Shen-shen. The first-class torpedo boat Shiratsuka, commanded by Wakabayashi, sent two torpedoes in a battleship of the Peresviet class. She was seen to sink in a volume of smoke and fire. Other effects of the attack were not observed on account of the heavy firing which cast volumes of water over the flotilla and the heavy cannonading which rent the air. The searchlights from the ships and the forts also blinded the Japanese. At dawn Friday a reconnaissance of the entrance was made by the 4th and fifth flotillas, whose report confirmed that of the patrol ships as to the Russian loss. Admiral Togo says the moonlight and the narrow line of the enemy prevented his fleet from inflicting greater damage.

The Japanese loss was unexpectedly small. The destroyer Shirakump was struck in the cabin and three of her crew were killed and three wounded. The first-class torpedo boat Chidori was struck in the engine room. Torpedo boats 64, 66, and 53 were damaged. The others engaged were uninjured. In concluding his report Admiral Togo said: "The effect of the attack and the small loss must be attributed to the illustrious virtues of his majesty."

Ottawa Correspondence:

The Dundonald Affair

The Dundonald campaign which has been occupying such a large share of party newspaper attention in Eastern Canada for the past two weeks, came to an end as far as the House of Commons was concerned at 1.30 this morning. Its conclusion was the defeat of Mr. Borden's vote of censure upon the government, by a vote of 84 to 42. As the Hon. Mr. Fisher's name was mentioned in Mr. Borden's motion he preferred not to vote on the motion which proposed to censure himself. Practically, therefore, Borden's motion was defeated by a vote of two to one with one to spare.

Dundonald's Briefs a Broken Reed

The defeat of the motion by vote of the House was not more complete than the defeat of the arguments in its support during the debate by members of the government, who took part. No question was ever raised in Canadian politics from which so much was expected of party advantage as of this Dundonald question. No argument was too petty, no charge too outrageous, no assertion too wild for the opponents of the government to take up in the hope of arousing hostility in the public mind. And no public question when it came to be threshed out in parliament ever felt so flat or was as completely defeated by fact and argument, as well as vote, as this one was.

Defeat Acknowledged

The abandonment of the two main attacks of the press upon the government by the leader of the opposition in his motion, was the first fall down. Then, when Mr. Fisher had dealt with his own connection with the affair, which was the ground of attack contained in Mr. Borden's motion; when Sir Frederick Borden had dealt with the policy and administration of the militia and Lord Dundonald's connection with it; and when Sir Wilfrid had taken up the question of constitutional right and British precedent in the dismissal of Lord Dundonald; and especially when he had dealt with the concentrated essence of the opposition attack, his use of the word "foreigner" in his first speech on the subject, there was absolutely nothing more to be said. The opposition and their case were beaten to a pulp. For once they were ashamed of their attempt and recognized that it had failed.

Col. Hughes Catches a Tartar

The debate on Friday afternoon was between Colonel Sam Hughes, Conservative member for North Victoria, and Professor Russell, Liberal, of Hants, Nova Scotia. Hughes made a most abusive attack upon the Minister of Agriculture and upon the government generally. He has had a long connection with the Canadian militia, and served for several months with some distinction in South Africa; therefore, he posed as an authority on military matters and gave his most unqualified support to the idea that the general officer commanding the Canadian militia was not and should not be under the control of the responsible ministry.

Mr. Russell in his reply read from a report giving correspondence which had passed between Colonel Hughes and General Hutton, a former general officer commanding in Canada, showing that the Colonel at the time held precisely the views upon which the government acted in dealing with Lord Dundonald. In retaliation for Colonel Hughes' abusive language he went on to read an abject apology which Colonel Hughes had made to General Hutton for the expressions which he had used, withdrawing them wholly.

Hughes jumped to his feet and said he had only made this apology as a means of securing the General's approval of his proposed service in South Africa.

"Then," said Mr. Russell, "we are to understand that when he made this apology he did not mean it as such, and made it with the distinct purpose of deceiving and misleading the general officer commanding."

Mr. Russell also read criticisms made by Colonel Hughes in the same correspondence, of the methods of the British war office which, had they been made by members on the Liberal side of the House, would have been considered ample evidence of high treason. He also, to the amusement of the House, read from one of the gallant Colonel's letters from South Africa, an elaborate account of how with a small force under his command, he had captured a very large force of Boers. After elaborating for a column or so on the greatness of this achievement, a postscript to the letter conveyed the information that the Boers had escaped.

In conclusion Mr. Russell said that the quarrel in this case was as to supremacy between the civil and military power. The question of that supremacy had been settled long ago under the British constitution in favor of the civil power. Britain had many noble soldiers and great generals of whose achievements every Briton was proud, but it would be better to blot out the name and record of every one rather than abate one jot of the right of supremacy of the civil over the military power, which was Britain's liberty and the foundation of Britain's greatness.

The Premier on the Dismissal

The Premier dealt with the question of the dismissal of Lord Dundonald. The other accusations of neglect of the militia and of political interference having been dealt with by Sir Frederick Borden and by Mr. Fisher. He first quoted authority showing the constitutional right of the Government to control the militia force and organization of which the general officer commanding was a part, and then quoted British precedents for the action the Government had taken in regard to Lord Dundonald. Under the law and according to the precedent, they had taken the only course which Lord Dundonald had left open to them.

As to the Use of the Word "Foreigner"

Dealing with the accusation made so generally in the Opposition newspapers and repeated on the floor of the House that he had used the word "foreigner" while speaking of Lord Dundonald in a previous debate, as an insult, he said that although he had used the word, he had withdrawn it and substituted the word "stranger" before any objection had been made. He had said that Lord Dundonald was a stranger in the eastern townships, and therefore unacquainted with the local conditions; which made him dependent upon information at second hand as to who should hold positions in the proposed militia organization there. He did not claim to be a master of the English language, although fairly familiar with it, and he was not alone in having used one word when he meant another, proceeding to illustrate several cases of the kind which had taken place in the House during

THE CLOSING DAY OF THE FAIR

Fine Weather and a Good List of Events Drew a Large Crowd to the Grounds on Saturday. Results of the Racing Event Calgary Won at Baseball

Another ideal summer day was provided for the closing day of the fair on Saturday. The heat was tempered by a very acceptable breeze which, though not strong enough to interfere with the races, was greatly appreciated by the crowds on the bleachers and along the track.

THE STOCK PARADE.

The stock parade of the fair was held in the forenoon and the attendance was not large. The parade, however, served to show in a very impressive manner the splendid assortment of stock of all kinds gathered in competition this year and furnished a very good indication of the growth of this department of the exhibition. The cattle exhibit was much larger than last year and some of the finest herds and animals in the west were in the parade. The horse exhibit, while not showing the same increase over last year included some very fine animals, and the classes were well filled.

THE RACES.

The race program for the afternoon brought out another large crowd. The business houses in town were all closed for the afternoon and the citizens generally took the half day off. The program fully justified the expectations of the spectators, the events being keenly contested and being called on in rapid succession, the somewhat long string of races was concluded at a good hour, and tiresome waits between the heats was avoided.

The 240 trot and 245 pace was the first race called. It was won by Clearwater with three firsts and a second to his credit, Dan Patchen getting second money with one first and three seconds. The race in every heat was between these two, Capp being distanced in the first heat and Boundary Boy in the second. The finish of the fourth heat was one of the finest races of the day, when in the stretch Clearwater gathered his reserve speed and came up from a bad second place to shove his nose ahead of Dan Patchen as they passed the wire.

The free for all for the $1,000 purse was the big event of the day and of the fair, and brought out four horses which had not been seen in any previous race here this season. They were Princevale, Strathly M., Fred Wilkes and Chic McGregor. Each horse had a string of backers as they were all good nags. The first heat was taken by Princevale in 2:18 1-4, lowering the track record by 1 3-4 seconds. Strathly M. crowded him from the start to the finish and the spectators had a race for their money up the stretch when Fred Wilkes, coming up from third place, passed Strathly and fought hard for first place. Chic finished fourth. The second heat was taken by Strathly M. in 2:19 3-4, with Princevale second. In scoring for this race Strathly M. and Princevale were fined for scoring ahead of Chic McGregor. The judges coming to the conclusion that Princevale had not been driven out changed his driver, but he broke on the start of the next two heats and Strathly M. took them in 2:24 1-4 and 2:24. Princevale won second money and Fred Wilkes third. Chic McGregor, who captured the race last year, was distanced in the second heat, an indication of the faster horses in the event this year.

A five-eighth mile consolation run for horses which had lost in previous races was won by Jolly Mount, Billy Fisher being second, St. Helen third and Kingfisher fourth.

Ralph Nelson won the three year old trot in two straight heats, Helen B. getting second money.

Toistol won the 1 1-4 mile open run, Pirate Maid second and O'Day third. Pirate Maid was fined for delaying the start.

In the novelty race Tom Tit won the first quarter. Young Marlowe the half, dead heat between Young Marlowe and Gawaine at the three-quarters and Gawaine the mile.

J. I. Mills with Fred S. won the gentleman's road race with Petroria second and Don B. third.

CALGARY WON EASY GAME.

The Calgary baseball team, which had played at Red Deer the preceding day came up on Saturday morning and a game was arranged with a picked team from the teams of Wetaskiwin, Fort Saskatchewan, Strathcona and Edmonton to play them in the evening. The association put up a purse of $100 for the game, and a large crowd filled the grand stand and surrounded the diamond. The Calgary men had it their own way from the start. Till was in the box for the local team but the batters from the south got onto him early and batted out for five runs in the first three innings. They scored again in the 5th 6th and 8th, and wound up with about a dozen to their credit. The local team did not score until the seventh innings, when they got two men over, securing another in the ninth, totalling three. W. Irwin refereed the game.

ATHLETICS.

Following were the athletic events pulled off on Saturday:

Running Long Jump, W. Groat 1st, M. Purdee 2nd.

Standing Long Jump, W. Groat 1st, Robt. Keah 2nd.

Three standing jumps, F. Lecerc 1st, L. Irwin 2nd.

INDIAN RACES.

There were not many Indians at the fair this season, but still enough to wind up matters with the customary Indian races. The horses entering had no known names, but they ran with a will, a purse of $10 being divided among the winners.

This brought the fair of 1904 to a close. After the exhibition the directors and secretary expressed themselves as entirely satisfied with the weather, the crowds and everything in connection with the fair, which was in every respect far ahead of all predecessors.

EXHIBITION HALL

A PALACE OF BEAUTY

Large Exhibits in all Classes. Attractive Arrangements of Advertising Displays.

The Agricultural hall on the exhibition grounds presented a most attractive appearance during the three days of the fair. Every available space was filled with exhibits. The grain exhibits were necessarily small on account of the early dates of the fair. Otherwise the exhibits in every class were numerous and of the finest quality. In variety they far surpassed the efforts of past years. The prize winners in all classes have been previously announced.

On entering the building at the main door one came face to face with a splendid display by Revillon Brothers. It was divided into three sections, groceries, dry goods and hardware. The whole was artistically arranged, the draping of the walls and the carpeted floors adding much to the attractiveness of the display. The grocery section was most exhaustive, all styles of groceries including canned goods were shown. The dry goods display was a dainty piece of work. The hardware department showed a wide range including stoves, fire places, etc. One particularly noticeable feature of this display was a line of fire arms with cartridges to match. The clerks in charge of the display distributed flags of the different nationalities to the crowds of people who thronged the hall. The next display was that of the Mason-Ritch planes and organs, showing several instruments made by these well known manufacturers.

W. J. Webster of the Edmonton Woolen Mills had a splendid display of his manufactures. Blankets and all kinds of woolen goods of the very best quality were shown.

W. T. Armstrong was in charge of a display of the goods of the Henderson Roller Bearing Manufacturing Co. of Toronto, Ont. A complete line of roller bearings for steam and electric cars, vehicles, etc., were shown.

A small corner of the first floor was occupied by expert wood carvers who placed their trade to the close attention of many of the curious.

Williamson Brothers showed a good line of hams and other meats of their manufacture.

A large display of the Empire Cream Separators by Kelly & Beale occupied a prominent position in the hall. Flags and bunting made the display very attractive.

A very interesting display was that of the Edmonton Brewing and Malting company. A complete line of their manufactures was shown, including keg and bottled beer. A very attractive part of this display was the word "Edmonton" lettered in barley and the word "beer" in hops, a hint of the products used in the manufacture of the beer.

Corriveau & Lockie, plumbers and tinmiths, had a display of their plumbing work.

The Singer Sewing Machine display in charge of C. Hall was very attractively arranged. The machines were shown in operation and their distinctive features explained to all interested.

The butter display was perhaps the best on record, two long refrigerator cases being completely filled. The entries for crock and tub butter were especially large.

Wheat, oats, barley, peas, and all kinds of grain were shown in a very creditable display.

Two splendid blacksmith displays

The Dominion Liner Vancouver is aground in the St. Lawrence.

The Armenian Bishops in Persia have appealed to America for help.

Nine head of thoroughbred stock were consumed by fire at Caron, N.W.T.

Minneapolis and St. Paul may have teams in the Northern League next season.

Vancouver bootmakers were robbed of $7000 at the point of the gun by masked men.

Varying opinions are given by the British press of the Canadians' chances at Henley.

Deputy Minister of Railways Schreiber gave evidence before the Allen Labor Commission.

and the other by A. W. Gilchrist. Both were exceedingly creditable.

A number of Melotte Cream Separators were on exhibition.

E. McAdam had on exhibition samples of minerals from the Edmonton Iron and Coal company's claims.

The middle part of the first floor was devoted specially to grasses, grains and house plants and vegetables. Grasses and grains of all kinds and in a very advanced condition, were shown in great profusion. Numerous beautiful house plants occupied a prominent place. All lines of vegetables of a splendid quality distinctive to Northern Alberta attracted very favorable comment. The display of potatoes was an especially splendid one.

These exhibits occupied the first floor of the building. On the second floor were exhibits of a somewhat different nature.

The first space was occupied by an extensive display of bread and buns. There were numerous entries in this line and the judging was very keen. The display of canned and preserved goods and honey was large and very creditable.

A couple cages of canary birds made a small but enjoyable exhibit.

An especially good display of fancy wood work, including fancy boxes, letter racks, etc., was very interesting. In connection with this display was a collection of old china and other odds and ends. One part of the exhibit which must have appealed strongly to many was a box of the chocolate presented to the British troops in South Africa during the late war as a Christmas gift from our late lamented Queen Victoria.

Samples of mail from C. W. Suter's claim were on exhibition.

The daintiest display in the whole building was undoubtedly that of McDougall & Scord's, occupying as it did a prominent place on the second floor. The fore part of the display represented the front of a store. White pillars on each side of three doorways were twined with ivy and were strikingly attractive. The floor was carpeted, the walls draped with tunting and flags. The display of dry goods was beautiful and boots and shoes although of a small display were particularly well exhibited.

In connection with this display was a handsome display of the Heintzman pianos, by H. W. B. Douglas. These exhibits combined were the most ambitious efforts for daintiness and beautiful work yet attempted at the Edmonton Exhibition.

C. W. Mathers had a splendid display of all kinds and sizes of plates including a handsomely framed enlarged photograph of last winter's senior hockey club, "champions of the Territories."

The display of ladies' fancy work including crazy patch work, pillows, mats, rugs, etc., greatly exceeded that of previous years occupying as it did a large part of the second storey. The work was particularly creditable to the exhibitors as well as to the Edmonton exhibition.

The paintings and drawings were especially good and there were numerous entries in every class.

C. M. Tait had an especially attractive display of all kinds of photographs.

The school children's work including writing, drawing and writing in copy books, plant mounting, etc., was exceedingly creditable and the entries were very numerous.

Altogether the exhibits in the Hall showed a very distinct advance over those of previous years.

PARLIAMENT

the current debate, and to which no objection had been taken. He continued his remarks as follows (Hansard Report):

"Sir, I have been told that my meaning (in using the word foreigner) was offensive and insulting. I have been in this House for many years. I have seen some of the veterans of former combats pass away. I have been engaged in combats with some of them. I have fought a good many hard struggles, but I am not conscious in all the years of my life, in all the struggles in which I have been engaged, with gentlemen on the other side of the House. I am not conscious that I ever deliberately used an offensive word towards any man or towards any class. I never sought a fight, but I was never afraid of a fight. Whenever I had to fight, I think it will be admitted by friend and foe that I always fought with fair weapons. I have been told to-day on the floor of this House, twice, that when I used the word 'foreigner' there was in my heart a sinister motive, there was in my heart a feeling that I found expression. Sir, let me say this once, I disdain to make reply to such an insinuation. If sixty years of what I believe to be an honourable life, a life which has certainly been one of loyal devotion to British institutions, is not a sufficient answer to such an insinuation, I will not attempt to make an answer."

After dealing with the definition of the word 'stranger' he concluded as follows:

"Now, Sir, it seems to me that my education ought to be complete, but I know that to-morrow and the day after tomorrow, and every day and every week and every month, so long as there are some of those instincts which are now prevalent, in order to defeat a fair opponent, I shall be traduced before my fellow countrymen as having tried to malign and insult them."

"Mr. Spruce—Hear, hear.
"Sir Wilfrid Laurier—Yes, there is an echo.
"Some hon. Members—Shame, shame.
"Sir Wilfrid Laurier—Let me say this to that hon. gentleman that I am familiar with these appeals to passion and prejudice. In my own province—

"Mr. Spruce—I want to tell the right hon. gentleman that I have never appeared to passion or prejudice—
"Some hon. Members—Sit down.

"Mr. Spruce—to race or religion and I defy him or any man to say that I have done so, I do not care who he is.

"Sir Wilfrid Laurier—In my own province the allies of the hon. gentleman, the ones who fight with him, have traduced me for years as a traitor to my race and religion. But, like cry in getting state and a new one has to be invented. I have no more fear of this one than I had of the other. My experience has convinced me, my experience has proved to me that in this good land of Canada, in all sections thereof, in all classes thereof, in all races thereof, in all creeds thereof, appeals to prejudice may create a furry of excitement but they will invariably end in producing nothing but contempt in the hearts and minds of intelligent and honest people."

The Happy Combination
"Two in One" Shoe Polish

The best polish ever made for Ladies' Shoes, because it shines quick as a wink, keeps shoes like new patent leathers, and WON'T SOIL THE CLOTHING. It's A Paste—that shines quicker—hold its gloss longer—and makes shoes wear longer—than any liquid-and-paste polish. It keeps ladies' fine shoes soft and easy—prevents them from cracking—feeds the leather—keeps it damp-proof and water-proof.

ST. EUGENE

Bulletin Correspondence.

On Saturday, June 25th, two meetings were held in the St. Eugene schoolhouse, one at 10 a.m. to elect a school trustee, and one at two p.m. to elect a councillor for Local Improvement District 28-R-1. At the school meeting, Enoch Lapage was elected without opposition. The afternoon meeting was well attended and three candidates were nominated, Messrs. Trotter, Chamberlain and Asher. The northeast corner of the district turned out well in support of Mr. Asher, who received one vote more than his two opponents together.

Mrs. Nolin passed away on Sunday evening after an illness of several months. She was buried yesterday at Lamoureux, the funeral being attended by many of the neighbors.

Mr. John Shaw, with the assistance of his neighbors, has lately erected a two-story house with shingled roof, and a stable.

J. R. Trotter, is cutting out lines on his homestead.

A grand picnic is being organized for Dominion Day by those around St. Eugene who do not intend to take in the Edmonton fair. It will be held at the mouth of the Sturgeon.

Our attendance this term at school is a record breaker, an average of 90 per cent. for the three months school has been open, with a percentage of over 96 during the month of May. The trustees have arranged to have the school grounds fenced during vacation.

June 29th.

The Canadian Northwest Homestead Regulations

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, excepting 8 and 16, which has not been homesteaded, or reserved to provide wood lots for settlers, or for other purposes, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age to the extent of one quarter section, of 160 acres more or less.

ENTRY.—Entry may be made per the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or, if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situated, receive authority for some one to make entry for him. A fee of $10.00 is charged for a homestead entry.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required by the provisions of the Dominion Lands Act and the amendments thereto, to perform the conditions connected therewith, under one of the following upon cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years:

(1) At least six months' residence years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, reside upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If a settler has obtained a patent for his homestead, or a certificate for the issue of such patent, countersigned in the manner prescribed by this Act, and has obtained entry for a second homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by residence upon the first homestead. If the second homestead is in the vicinity of the first homestead.

(4) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon said land.

The term "vicinity" used above is meant to indicate the same township or an adjoining or cornering township.

A settler who avails himself of the provisions of Clauses 2, 3, or 4, must personally sit on each of said homesteads for a period of not less than 30 days for their accommodation, and have besides 30 acres subinfeudated.

Every homesteader who fails to comply with the requirements of the homestead law is liable to have his entry cancelled, and the land may be again thrown open for entry.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the local agent, sub-agent, or Homestead Inspector. Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands, at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

Information.—Newly arrived immigrants will receive at the Immigration Office, in Winnipeg, or at any Dominion Lands Office, in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, information as to the lands that are open for entry, and from the officers in charge, free of expense, advice and assistance in securing land to suit them. Full information respecting the land, timber, coal and mineral laws as well as respecting Dominion Lands in the Railway Belt in British Columbia, may be obtained upon application to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, Manitoba, or to any of the Dominion Lands Agents in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories.

JAMES A. SMART,

Deputy Minister of the Interior.
N.B.—In addition to Free Grant Lands to which the regulations above stated refer, thousands of acres of most desirable lands are available for lease or purchase from railroad and other corporations and private firms in Western Canada.
